HOL Group is a diverse range of creative brands that specialises in retail and hospitality. Based in London, and founded in 1996, HOL Group supports businesses globally from visual merchandising, clothes hangers, shop fitting to design services and operational equipment.

We provide original, engaging concepts to our customers along with practical and commercial visual solutions.

Sustainable options are at the centre of our ongoing business. From FSC certified wooden clothes hangers, to 100% biodegradable materials we can help brands realise their sustainability goals.

Project management and installation are also services offered and HOL has a vast range of manufacturing capabilities based in the UK, Europe and the Far East.

HOL prides itself on customer support and has strong committed relationships with many major international brands. Our range of comprehensive services are also ideal for new and smaller businesses, as we can offer a variety of specialist requirements within one team.

A woman with short, straight blonde hair stands in the center of the frame. She is wearing a white, sleeveless, high-necked crop top that shows her midriff. Her skirt is dark, possibly black or dark brown, with a wide elastic waistband and a full, flowing silhouette that reaches down to her ankles. She is also wearing white athletic sneakers with white laces. She stands on a floor made of wide, weathered wooden planks. Behind her is a large, dark-framed window with a grid of many small panes. The window reflects the outside world, showing a blue sky and some buildings. The lighting is bright, coming from the window, and casting soft shadows on the floor.

A dark, moody background featuring the silhouettes of two people in an embrace. The person on the left is seen from the side, leaning towards the person on the right, whose back is to the camera. The lighting is soft, creating a romantic and intimate atmosphere. The word "Piccadilly" is written in a white, elegant script font across the center of the image.
